

Tutor Training

Beyond the Book: Maximizing the Read Aloud

Part 4 of 4: Popular Series

Tips for Choosing Books

- We encourage you to browse with your student! It is a great way to get to know them.
- Tip for reluctant readers: you may want to choose a book one color level above their work book level and read out loud to them! The content might be more engaging.
- Make recommendations!
- Ask if they have read the book before? If they are having a bad day, it might be a good idea to revisit one of their favorites.
- Ask your Site Director for “fan favorites”.

Elementary School Student Recommendations

- We Don't Eat our Classmates! (Ryan Higgins)
- Elephant and Piggie (Mo Willems; Series)
- The Boy of a Thousand Faces (Brian Selznick)
- Ever After High (Shannon Hale)
- This Book is Not Good for You (Pseudonymous Bosch)

Middle School Student Recommendations

- Who Was? (Various authors; Series)
- Sisters (Raina Telgemeier; Graphic Novel)
- A Tale Dark and Grimm (Adam Gidwitz)
- A Series of Unfortunate Events (Daniel Handler/Lemony Snicket; Series)
- Phoebe & Her Unicorn (Dana Simpson; Graphic Novel)

High School Student Recommendations

- The Hate U Give (Angie Thomas)
- The Crossover (Kwame Alexander; Series)
- ESPN Articles or other long form articles that fit their interests
- March (Lewis and Andrew Aydin, with Nate Powell; Graphic Novel Series)